ALANYA CASTLE

Alanya Castle is one of the iconic castles of Alanya, a district of Antalya. It is situated on a peninsula rising approximately 250 meters above sea level. Its walls are a total of 6.5 kilometers long. Built during the Hellenistic period in the settlement of Alanya, formerly known as Kandeleri, the castle's current historical structure dates back to the 13th-century Seljuk era. The castle was constructed by Seljuk Sultan Alaeddin Keykubat I, who conquered and rebuilt the city in 1221. You can reach the castle on foot from our hotel or by taking a minibus from the stop in front of the hotel.

RED TOWER

The Red Tower, a unique example of 13th-century medieval Mediterranean defensive structures, was built by the Seljuk ruler Alaaddin Keykubat I and the Aleppo-based master builder Abu Ali Reha el Kettani to protect the harbor, shipyard, and Alanya Castle from attacks from the sea. The Red Tower has five floors: a ground floor, a first floor, a mezzanine, an open floor, and an open terrace. It is within walking distance of our hotel.

SHIPYARD

The Alanya shipyard is a permanent structure that not only serves as a shipbuilding facility or wintering ground for ships, but also includes ironworks, administrative areas, and storage facilities where repairs, sailing, and ship equipment can be made. The shipyard, where boat building and repair continued until the 1960s, now serves as a museum dedicated to maritime history and ships. Walking along a wooden walkway from the entrance, you can see: in the first section, an ancient crane; in the second section, an uncapped gantry boat, a fast sailing vessel used for logistics and supply in the Ottoman navy throughout history; one mizzen (the mast located at the stern of the boat) and one spar (the horizontal piece placed on the mast to hoist the sail); in the third section, one main mast (the longest mast of the boat), tools used in shipbuilding and a freshwater well; in the fourth section, ancient anchors; and in the fifth section, tools used for determining direction on ships. You can reach it on foot from our hotel.

DAMLATAŞ CAVE

Damlataş Cave was discovered in 1948 during the opening of a quarry to obtain stone for the construction of the port. The cave gets its name, Damlataş (meaning "droplet"), from the water droplets that continuously drip from the stalactites. Besides its captivating beauty, the cave is also famous for its air, which is beneficial for asthma sufferers. The cave's air remains constant year-round; the temperature is 22 degrees Celsius, the humidity is 95 percent, and the constant pressure is 760 mm. The air contains 71 percent nitrogen, 20.5 percent oxygen, 2.5 parts per ten thousand carbon dioxide, and a small amount of radioactivity and ions. It is the first cave in Turkey to be opened to tourism. You can reach it on foot from our hotel..

DIM CAVE

Located 11 km from Alanya, the cave is situated 232 m above sea level on the summit of Mount Cebeli Reis. Consisting of 4 galleries, Dim Cave is 360 m long, 10-15 m wide and high horizontally. Inside the cave, there are rich formations of stalactites, stalagmites, and travertines. At the end of the cave, 17 m deeper than the entrance, there is a small lake with a water surface area of 200 m<sup>2</sup>. It is the second largest cave in Turkey open to visitors. You can reach it directly by taking bus number 10 from city stops.

SAPADERE CANYON

Opened in 2008, this canyon, nestled among the rugged Taurus Mountains, is surrounded on three sides by high mountains and is 750 meters long. Located 400 meters above sea level, the canyon is approximately 10-15 meters wide and surrounded by karst rock formations reaching 150-200 meters in height. The water is cold and oxygen-rich as it emerges from within the rocks of the Taurus Mountains. Transportation from our hotel is available via taxi or tours. Public transportation does not reach this area.

CABLE CAR

Ecological TransportationAlanya Cable Car offers "ecologically conscious transportation" with its technology elegantly integrated into nature. Great care is taken to protect the environment and consume natural resources economically at every stage of its construction and operation. It incorporates all the advantages of ecological transportation vehicles. Designed to operate in all weather conditions, the Alanya Cable Car system can continue to operate uninterrupted in conditions such as rain, wind, and high temperatures. You can walk to Damlataş from our hotel and take the cable car to Alanya Castle.

MANAVGAT WATERFALL

This waterfall is located on the Manavgat River in the Manavgat district of Antalya. Although it falls from a relatively low height, it flows with a high volume over a wide area. You can take a bus to Antalya from the bus station to get to Manavgat.

SIDE ANCIENT CITY

The ancient city of Side, founded in the 7th century BC, is among the most important settlements in history. Belonging to the Pamphylia region, this historical city was first part of the Lydian Kingdom and remained under its rule for many years. Later, Side passed to the Persian Kingdom, and then, at the request of Alexander the Great, it came under the control of the Macedonian King. You can reach Side by taking a bus to Antalya from the bus station and then a minibus to Side from Manavgat city center.

TURKISH BATH

There has been a bathhouse culture in Anatolia since ancient times. Turks carried the bathhouse traditions that existed when they lived in Central Asia to Anatolia when they migrated. They built their own traditions on top of the marble bathhouse culture left by those who lived before them. Over time, bathhouses became places where very special occasions were celebrated. Even today, traditions such as "bridal bath," "postpartum bath," "baby's forty-day bath," "vow bath," and "mourning bath" for women, and "groom's bath," "circumcision bath," "soldier's bath," and "holiday bath" for men, remain relevant.

TOGETHER WE CAN SUCCEED

Contributing to a clean environment and leaving a livable world for future generations is in our hands... Please dispose of your waste according to the color codes, and contribute to recycling and environmental protection. The RECYCLING process is one of the most important weapons we have to prevent global climate change, as it allows for energy savings and reduces greenhouse gas emissions. Thus, instead of producing something new, by using the recyclable waste we already have, we protect our limited natural resources, save energy, and leave a livable world for future generations.
